SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the School Board of Londonderry:

I herewith submit my annual report as Superintendent of Schools.

The year since the last annual report has been one of unusual difficulty in school work. Last winter the extreme severity of the weather interrupted to quite a degree the work of the schools, and the influenza epidemic this year has been the most serious interference that we have ever known. Yet in spite of these drawbacks, we can find much in the year's work that is gratifying.

During the year ending in June, there was but one change in the teaching force, and this fact had considerable effect in making the year's work satisfactory. Frequent changes of teachers is exceedingly objectionable, and is likely to result in low grade work. Furthermore, every teacher last year was a qualified teacher, that is, was a graduate of a Normal school or held a New Hampshire state teacher's certificate, and consequently brought the town the state aid of two dollars per week for every week that she taught. The town received from the state on this account $656.00. At the end of the year in June, Miss Giff at No. 5, and Miss McKean at No. 9 resigned to take up other work. These teachers had taught for some time in these schools, and had done some excellent work. Their going was a distinct loss. Later in the summer, Miss Ryan at No. 2 and Miss Gens at No. 3 resigned. Mrs. Marion R. Watts was secured to succeed Miss Giff at No. 5, and Miss Celia Joyce to teach at No. 9, and Miss Vera Pillsbury at No. 2. The school at No. 3 was so small that it seemed best to close it for a time and transport the pupils to the nearest school in Hudson. At the end of the fall term, Miss Joyce resigned, and Mrs. Frances J. Wheeler was engaged to teach the school at No. 9.

The school at No. 7 was so large that one teacher could not well do the work, so Miss Jessie Webster was engaged to assist Mrs. Fisher, who had taught so successfully the school for a number of years. The school now numbers 45. The arrangement seems to be working very successfully. All of these changes suggests the fact that if we wish to retain good teachers and thus maintain the continuity of the work we must pay better salaries.

The inerruption due to the epidemic of the influenza made a very serious break in the work. Because of this it will be necessary to continue the schools with but little break until the end of the year in June, if we are to complete the year's work at all satisfactorily. The open winter seems to be favorable for this.

Last year some of the children did good work with the war gardens. This year, although the war is doubtless over, we are asked to do even more along this line. The food situation the world over is critical, and much can be done by the children to help relieve the situation. But more important than this is the educational value of this work. It can and should be made of real practical value to the child. The school and community at No. 4 purchased a canning outfit, but it was received too late for use last fall. It was, however, a move in the right direction, and its successful use during the coming season will be a matter of interest. Other communities might profitably do likewise.

An excellent opportunity to teach thrift has been afforded by the sale of thrift stamps among the children. The children have responded well. It is fortunate from the standpoint of thrift and education that the sale of thrift stamps is to be continued, and the children will be encouraged in all the schools to invest their savings regularly in stamps.

The attendance has been, in the main, quite satisfactory in all schools except that at No. 1. This school has suffered seriously on account of poor attendance for several years. Many of the children live a long way from the school, but this fact does not account for the serious part of the irregular attendance. The chief offenders have been from families that have been very indifferent to the matter of regular attendance. The teacher has worked faithfully to reduce this evil, and the superintendent has used every means to bring about an improvement, except prosecution. This should now be resorted to unless an immediate and apparently permanent change takes place. Parents that are interested that their children become trustworthy and reliable will see to it that they are in school every day, unless prevented by sickness. The percentage of attendance in this school for the year ending in June was 60.18, and this accounts in a large measure for the low average for the town.

The buildings need considerable attention. In no one is the lighting correct. Several have a window in front, making it necessary for the children to face the light. This has been remedied in a measure by keeping the curtains at such windows drawn. The toilets of our rural schools are constantly needing attention, and they will never be satisfactory until they are so arranged that they can be entered only from the school room, and thus be kept under closer supervision. It would be good policy to make the desired changes at one building a year until all are put in thoroughly good condition.

Some of the more important of the statistics reported to the State Department for the school year ending in June are given following his report.

It is a pleasure to note the spirit of co-operation manifest everywhere among the children, parents and teachers. I am confident that the year's work, in spite of the time already lost, will be completed successfully.

In conclusion, I wish to thank the members of the Board for hearty and generous co-operation in all that pertains to the progress and well-being of the schools.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES W. CUTTS,

Superintendent of Schools.

REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD.

Your School Board organized with Rose L. Condon as chairman, Hattie T. Colburn, secretary and Norman F. Watts, committee on supplies.

The spring term passed successfully with very good and regular attendance, and with results very satisfactory to the Board.

During the summer vacation the school buildings were cleaned, and those needing it were given a fresh coat of paint inside with new paper and whitewash. All the chimneys and stove-pipes were cleaned and minor repairs attended to.

On account of the small attendance at No. 3 school and the great scarcity of teachers produced by the advent of so many young men and young women into war activities, the Board deemed it advisable to close that school for the present, and transportation was furnished to a school in Hudson.

The school at No. 7 has increased so rapidly of late that it seemed necessary to procure an assistant teacher in the fall, and we have since had two teachers working together very harmoniously in that school.

The fall term opened up with bright prospects, but on account of the prevailing epidemic of influenza the schools were all closed during October and during November the attendance was so poor that the work suffered a severe interference. We sought to make up some of the work lost by cutting short the vacation periods but the Board of Health ordered the extension of our Christmas vacation by one week because of a recurrence of the epidemic. Although the weather has been very mild the attendance continues to be much below the average, on account of much sickness in town, but we hope to have a long winter term in which to make up lost work.

It has been necessary to increase the salaries in a few cases to hold the teachers and it is feared that they will need to be increased still more another year in order to maintain the degree of excellence which we all desire.

Our books were audited the first of September, when the report had to be made to the State. And our report now covers the time from Feb. 1st, 1918 to Sept. 1st, 1918. Next year's will take up the itemized accounts from Sept. 1st, 1918 to Sept. 1st, 1919, so that the same report may be given to the State and the Town hereafter.
